

SIR ADAM BECK'S PAIR OF HUNTERS WIN BLUE RIBBON

Beautiful Exhibition of Riding in Feature Event of Last Day at the Bryn Mawr Show

ARTHUR WHITE GETS RED

BRYN MAWR, Oct. 2.—Two horses owned by Sir Adam Beck, who has already taken a number of ribbons for his stables at London, Ont., won the feature event of the morning at the closing day of the twenty-second annual Bryn Mawr horse show.

Arthur White's Clinton stable of Virginia horses took the red ribbon in the event. Mr. White and J. Gerry Lelper rode second Aquilier and Coburg Boy. Third went to Glen Riddle Farm's Nancy Pansy and Willow King, ridden by J. Gerry Lelper and a groom; F. Ambrose Clark's Sally Combes, which he rode himself, and indicator took the fourth.

LIVELY FOX HUNT

Many boxholders and others interested in the show rode miles early today on a fox hunt from the Radnor Hunt Club, south of Bryn Mawr. They were lucky enough to turn up three foxes, one of which led the hounds a two-mile chase through woods and fields.

Benjamin Chew, master of hounds of the Radnor club, led the chase from a field near the grounds at 6 o'clock. Those who rode were Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Collins, of Pittsburgh; Alfred Devereux, A. J. Antelo, Foxhall Keene, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mills, Mrs. Victor Mather, Francis Richmond, R. Penn Smith, Jr., Miss Eileen Cassatt, Miss Eugenia Cassatt, Lurhman Stewart and Miss Carol Harriman. The party started one fox in wood near the estate of Rowland Comly, on White Horse Pike, at 6 o'clock.

The third fox was started on the grounds of George Wharton Pepper, on White Horse Pike. It raced all the way to Center Square. The hounds overtook it there on the estate of Hector McNeill.

BRYN MAWR, Pa., Oct. 2.—It is an old saying and a true one that all good things must come to an end, and so today, matron and maid, debutante-to-be and debutante that was, together with scores of club men and visitors from other cities—in short Society with a capital S was present at the last day of the Bryn Mawr horse show.

White skirts and waists and light topcoats were very much in evidence, as the weather was much warmer and every one seemed glad to get back to summer clothes. Mrs. Harry Harrison joined Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Jr., wearing a linen and thin blouse, over which was a blue topcoat made with a deep rounded collar. A small Nile green sports hat was effective.

Mrs. Antelo Devereux motored over to the show. She looked unusually pretty in white with a pink ansara hat and white wool sweater. With her was Mrs. Howard Henry wearing an old rose sweater over a linen skirt. Her black velours hat was most becoming. Mrs. Henry Danton selected a suit of black and white check, with which she wore a black velvet sailor and a beautiful white fox scarf. White cloth was most becoming to Mrs. Alexander Brown, who also wore a pale greenish gray velvet hat.

Miss Kitty Penn Smith, who usually wears her riding togs, was particularly pretty in

NEW YORK TRACTION STRIKE STILL MEETS WITH VIOLENCE

Movement for General Walkout Has Failed, However

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Although the movement for a general sympathetic strike has been abandoned violence continues in the walkout of the traction workers. A shot was fired into a crowded street car at 114th street and Third avenue today, wounding Melville Wright, a passenger. Panic broke out and the policeman guarding the car had difficulty in restoring order.

Lawlessness has become so widespread among the traction strikers in Westchester County north of New York that the authorities threaten to ask for the militia. In Mount Vernon and Yonkers cars were stoned again today.

SICK BOY LONGS FOR MOTHER

Presence of Parent "Medicine" Needed by Lad, Who Hasn't Seen Her for Ten Years

A sight of his mother, whom he hasn't seen for ten years, is the "medicine" needed by a thirteen-year-old Leavenworth, who is sick at the Southern Home for Destitute Children, Broad and Morris streets.

At least, that is what the authorities believe. And so they would be glad if the mother, Mrs. Annie Humming, who lived at 1143 South Seventh street ten years ago, would write or come to her boy. Leon will be fourteen years old next Thursday, but the prospect of a birthday anniversary has no joy for him without his mother. He told her good-bye in 1906, when she had him put on a farm of the institution, but now he wants to see her.

CONCERT TO AID HOSPITAL

Friends of Mt. Sinai Will Present First of Series of Programs Next Sunday Night

The first of a series of concerts and dances to raise funds for the Mount Sinai Hospital will be held Sunday night, October 8, in the Apollo Hall, 1728 North Broad street, by the friends of Mount Sinai Hospital.

The concert, which will be sacred, will begin at 8 o'clock, followed by dancing, at which exhibition dances will be given. The hall will be decorated with palms and varicolored lights. Among the prominent patrons are Jacob D. Litt, president of the hospital, and David Phillips, vice president. The officers of the Friends of Mount Sinai Hospital, who have charge of the entertainment, are Jack J. Wolpert, president; Miss Cecelia Levin, vice president; Miss Rose Lieber, corresponding secretary; Miss Estella Katlin, financial secretary, and Miss Minnie Rosenthal, treasurer.

The liquor evil was blamed for the prevalence of crime in a report, which was not adopted because the clergymen felt that they did not desire to interfere in the work of the Anti-Saloon League. They endorsed, however, the work of the league.

GAMBLING SYNDICATE COVERING U. S. FOUND

Hearing in Chicago Uncovers Powerful Ring Organized Like Big Corporation

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Federal prosecution of the members of a gigantic gambling trust, headquarters of which are in Chicago, seemed probable today, following revelations in the court of Federal Judge Landis, which showed that the syndicate had branches in all the principal cities and that its daily profits ran into thousands of dollars.

From the mass of testimony—some direct, a great deal indirect, and much extracted by the corker process—Charles F. Clyde, United States District Attorney, is convinced the operations of the trust are nationwide and that action can be begun under the lottery section of the United States statutes.

Chicago is the center of the handbook betting on horse races throughout the country, witnesses admitted. Odds on the races are fixed here and information is disseminated over private leased telephone wires. A news bureau, which handles nothing but racing information, is one of the most important cogs in the machinery of the syndicate. Branches are in Cleveland, Buffalo, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Detroit, Denver, San Antonio, Oklahoma City and other large cities.

The master mind behind the syndicate, according to officials, is Mont Tennes, king of gamblers in Chicago, who is said to own fifteen handbooks in the city. The profits of the news bureau alone are said to be about $75,000 a year.
